SINGLE NEWS

There have been 2 singles released in the UK since the last issue of Splash, both of which were taken from their current album Wet Wet Wet 10. The first was 'Strange', which was released on 2nd June and went to number 14 in the UK charts. Strange was accompanied with one of the Wets weirdest videos to date, where each band member's head belonged to a different body!! Marti was desperate to be a Baywatch Beach Babe & Neil wanted the muscle man body for the day! It really is a fantastic fun video!

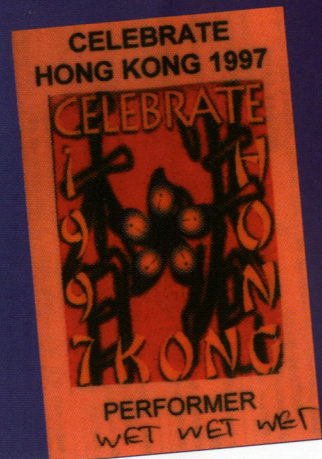

The last single released was a double A side featuring 'Maybe I'm In Love' and a cover of the Beatles track 'Yesterday'. It was released on 4th August 1997 and went straight into the UK charts at number 4. There were 3 formats available - the cassette (cat no. JWLMC31) featured Yesterday & Maybe I'm in Love. Cd1 (cat no. JWLCD31) included Yesterday, Maybe I'm In Love, Goodnight Girl '94 and a beautiful Acoustic version of Yesterday.

Cd2 (cat no. JWLDD31) features Maybe I'm In Love, Yesterday and Live versions of Beyond The Sea & Love Is All Around which were both recorded at the ISDN session in March '97. Yesterday was also featured on the soundtrack to the hugely successful Mr Bean movie which was also released this year.

Our Far East Diary

There was no rest for the Wets this summer, when we were all planning our summer holidays & what to do with our time off work or college, the band were out in Far East working really hard promoting their new album. They started in Thailand, then on to Taiwan, Hong Kong & finally the Philippines. Every day there would be a gruelling itinerary which the band had to stick to, this would include interviews for television programmes, magazines or radio stations, below is an example of a typical promotional trip for Wet Wet Wet.

'PLAYING AWAY TOUR' 97

It was tour time again & the band were really geared up and raring to go. They were all really eager to get back out on stage again as they were in the studio recording '10' during 1996, they had all really missed performing live. The last time that Wet Wet Wet were on stage in the UK was during their hugely successful 'Picture This Tour' in 1995 when they played to over 550,000 people making the Wets one of the biggest live acts ever.

Unfortunately although ticket sales were good for the three scheduled stadium shows, (Milton Keynes National Bowl, Don Valley Sheffield Arena & Glasgow Celtic Park) it seemed that there was some resistance to the idea of Stadium shows therefore the band decided to move the gig indoors and re-schedule them as follows:-

SHEFFIELD ARENA22nd AUGUST
SHEFFIELD ARENA23rd AUGUST
MANCHESTER NYNEX ARENA26th AUGUST
LONDON WEMBLEY ARENA29th AUGUST
LONDON WEMBLEY ARENA30th AUGUST
BIRMINGHAM NEC ARENA31st AUGUST
NEWCASTLE ARENA2nd SEPTEMBER
GLASGOW CELTIC PARK7th SEPTEMBER
BIRMINGHAM NEC ARENA10th SEPTEMBER

Although we were all stunned by the tragic news of the death of Diana, Princess Of Wales the consensus of the hundreds of fans who called the Birmingham NEC was that the concert should go ahead as planned. The band held a minute silence before the concert Marti then dedicated With a little help from my friends as a mark of respect for such a unique woman.

"Parkhead
Glasgow Scotland,
It's taken us 10
years to get here,
I hope it doesn't take another 10
years to come back, you have made it absolutely fantastic"- Tommy

The band also decided to postpone their concert at Celtic Park on Saturday 6th September, as it fell on the same day as the funeral of Diana, Princess Of Wales.

The concert took place on Sunday 7th September. Unfortunately this also meant that the concert on Monday 8th September at the Birmingham NEC could not take place as scheduled as it would be impossible for the crew to dismantle the stage at Celtic Park and transport it to Birmingham in a day! The last show of the tour went ahead on Wednesday 10th September.

The band were really pleased with how each show went, the Celtic Park show was particularly challenging for the band as they were playing to 40,000 people in their home town. The first support act on stage was Scottish singer & ex Deacon Blue frontman, Ricky Ross, he was followed by a new up and coming band, My Life Story, who supported the Wets for their hold tour. The final support act was former Take That heartthrob Mark Owen.

Wet Wet Wet then burst on to the stage with electric explosions and earth shattering screams from the crowd who were finally watching the band they had come to see. Sweet Little Mystery started the explosive set, they played all the old favourites, Wishing I Was Lucky, I Can Give You Everything, With A Little Help From My Friends and many more of their hits from the last 10 years. With this tour the band had a chance to play their new tracks from '10' to a live crowd for the first time and judging by everyone's reaction they went down a storm!! If I Never See You Again, the first track released from 10, finished their stunning set.

When the Wets came back on for their encore, they dazzled everyone as they performed their two 'big band' numbers, Beyond the Sea and Maybe I'm In Love, accompanied by spectacular lights and lasers, it really had to be seen to be believed. Marti's voice sailed round Celtic Park as the band left the stage for a second time and it left the crowd screaming for more.

'Do You Want More?' flashed upon the screens, 'Yes', was the overwhelming response from the 35,000 fans, 'When?.....Today?.....Now?.....Yesterday?'. On this note the band launched into their most recent hit, the cover of the Beatles classic, 'Yesterday'. The band's biggest hit to date closed the show, 'Love Is All Around' filled the air as everyone joined in to singalong, what a fantastic end to a fantastic night. Fireworks lit up the dark Glasgow sky as the band left the stage for the final time.

HELEN WESTBURY & MARION HALLETT

In 1066 there was the battle of Hastings in 1914 the First World War, in 1939 the Second World War. But Wednesday 20th August 1997 will go down in history for us as a memorable occasion as that was the day we travelled to Manchester for a concert for competition winners only. There were a handful of lucky people and we were fortunate enough to be at the front. The show opened with the original 'Wishing I Was Lucky'. There was a whole spectrum of songs from Popped In Souled Out and the whole atmosphere was electric when you heard the opening bars from the classics East Of The River and Lip Service when everyone's hands were in the air and we were all jumping for Marti! There were superb effects with lighting, fireworks and back screen to compliment the excellent music, vocals and performance of the whole band. There were an array of songs from all the albums and also cover versions of Jammin' and Summer In The City which were carried off superbly by Marti's brilliant vocal talents. The whole show had so much energy and all members put everything into their own performance and really looked like they were enjoying themselves, Maybe I'm In Love and Beyond The Sea were warmly received much to Marti's delight! In summary the whole show was a fantastic experience!

KIRSTY BUSHELL

Living in South Africa and being so far away from my favourite band, we were unsure whether we would ever see the Wets perform live here again, so I started to plan our trip to Scotland and the UK as far back as February 1997. After all the months of planning and saving all I can say is that the night of the 7th September 1997 is one that we'll never forget.

My two daughters and I are all great fans and I find it quite interesting that your music should be loved by us all and age doesn't come in to it! As the words go 'If I Never See You Again' - we'll always be very glad that we saw you perform in your home town 'All Good Things must come To An End' - is how we felt at the end of a brilliant concert' - being a fan has truly opened many doors in my life and I have made and met many friends and travelled to lots of new places. I believe none of which would have happened if we didn't have a love of the band and their music. Thank you Wet Wet Wet for the music, it really was a magical and memorable experience for us to be part of the Celtic Park concert.

VICKY JONES #14495

It may have been two years since the Wets last graced the stage on the Birmingham NEC, but for those of us lucky enough to have been there on September 10th, it was as if they never left. Right from the stunning opening of 'Sweet Little Mystery', the same old magic we have witnessed before came flooding back. The crowds were on their feet from start to finish, clapping, cheering & singing along with all of their old favourites. Once again, the band managed to cover the entire spectrum, from the upbeat 'Wishing I Was Lucky' and the crowd teasing 'Temptation' right up to the romantic 'Somewhere Somehow' and the startling 'Strange', complete with a very effective display of pyrotechnics.

However, it was not long before Marti proved that he could be equally successful as a comedian as he is a singer, which was greatly appreciated by the audience! All too soon, the concert was drawn to a close with the two 'Big Band' songs from '10', 'Beyond The Sea' and 'Maybe I'm In Love', which proved the capabilities of all the band members. To much cheering and shouting the band left the stage only to appear minutes later to perform their most recent hit single 'Yesterday', and of course, the song everyone knows and loves, 'Love Is All Around', which brought the show to an end.

Thank you Wet Wet Wet - you're great!

JUDITH DEAKIN #16113

I had to write to thank Wet Wet Wet for a fantastic concert at Sheffield Arena on 22nd August 1997. The show was even better than the 1995 concerts and the special effects were fabulous!! The chosen songs were marvellous, something for every Wet Wet Wet fan to enjoy, spanning the band's career over a ten year period.

A wonderful idea to start the show with 'Sweet Little Mystery', one of the first singles and then to finish with the spectacular 'Love Is All Around'. One of the high points of the concert for me was their rendition of 'Yesterday', it brought tears to my eyes.

'Summer In The City' was also performed brilliantly, the audience were in full voice singing along with all the hits old and new. The big band sounds were especially well done - what a clever idea to have the videos in the background during 'Maybe I'm In Love'. I thoroughly enjoyed every moment, and I can't wait until next time, Here's to the next 10 years!

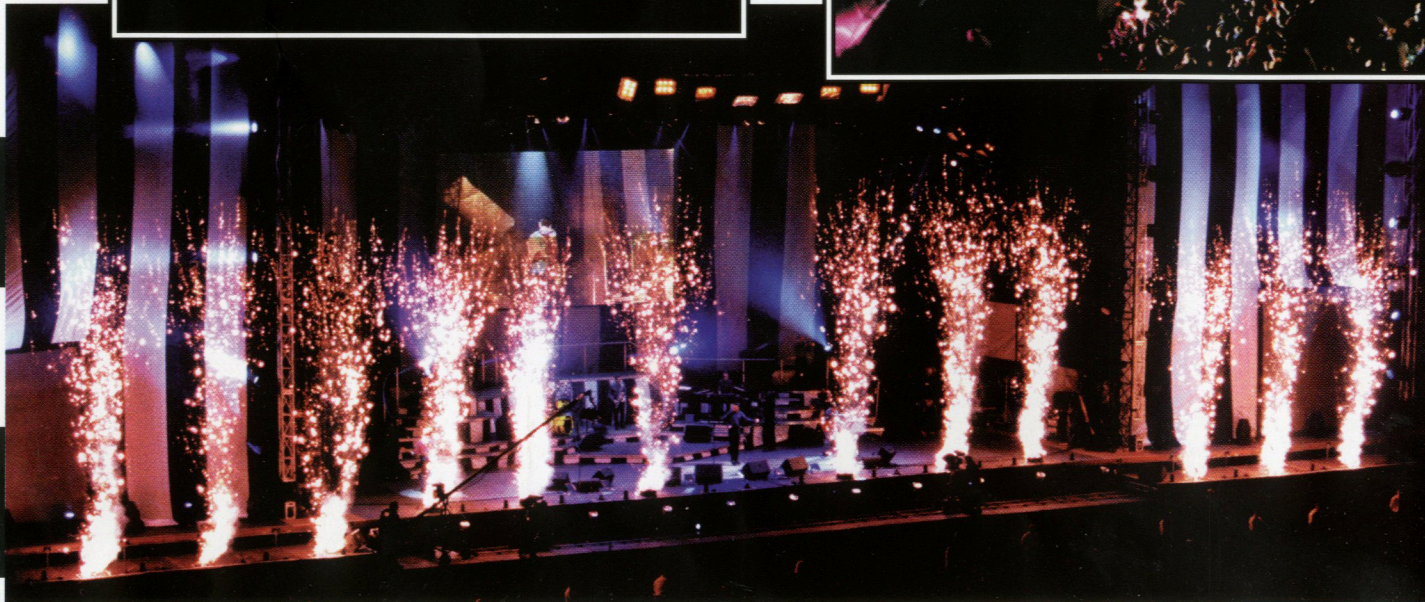

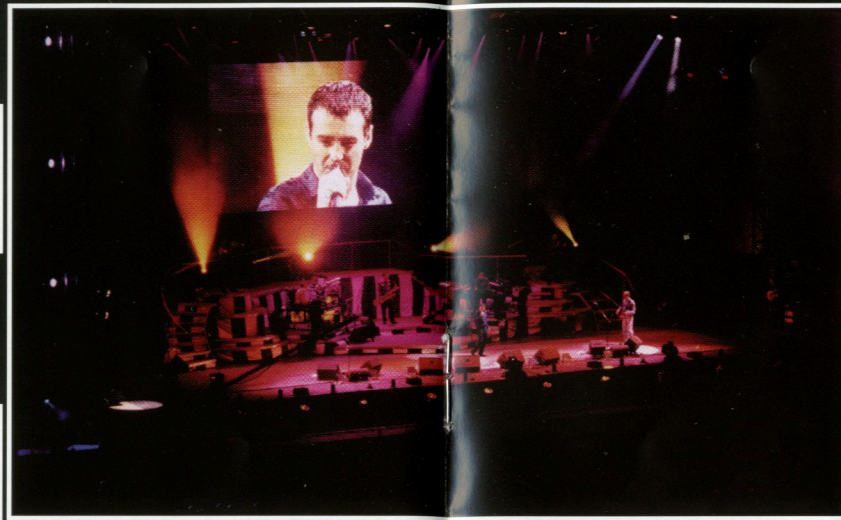

SARAH HARDING #17639

On Friday 29th August my friend and I travelled up to London to see the greatest band in the universe play live at Wembley Arena. You really can not believe how much we had been looking forward to the weekend and, of course, we were not disappointed. Wet Wet Wet know just how to hit the right spot when it comes to putting on a live show.

The great new album, which I adore, translates so well into a live set. I was glad that we were able to have a taste of the Big Band sensation when the lads were accompanied on stage by some of the Wets Big Band adding yet another dimension to their brilliant show. However, there were still more surprises in store for us. The lights went down, the stage went dark - was this it, the end of the show, no 'Goodnight, God Bless, safe journey home'? - then, the screens lit up with 'Do you want more?' YES! We yelled 'When?' NOW! Was our reply. 'Tomorrow' NO! We yelled again. 'Yesterday?' and the roof nearly flew off Wembley Arena as the spotlight fell on the stage and Marti's voice nearly tore our souls as he sang a heart-rendering version of Yesterday. This unfortunately signified the closing stages of yet another brilliant performance and as 'Love Is All Around' flowed from Graeme, Neil, Tommy and Graeme D's instruments, Marti was happily encouraging the audience to sing along.

Thanks Marti, Graeme, Neil, Tommy & Graeme for a fantastic weekend.
